Saturdays, Too, for Food Production

States Relations Service,
U. S. Department of Agriculture.

To the County Agent:

Here is the plan originating at Tuskegee Institute, Ala., and used in two States to induce Negroes to give up the Saturday holiday during the "peak" of the food-production season. The poster makes an appeal for members of Uncle Sam's Saturday Service League and the pledge card is used to enroll them. Are you trying the plan in your county? The suggestion is made to you in the hope that you may find it useful in saving needed labor in your community.

BRADFORD KNAPP,
Chief, Office of Extension Work South.

WORK TO WIN THE WAR

Patriotic colored men and women are needed by Uncle Sam to labor in the production of food and feed. Food must be grown and harvested this summer and fall or we will go hungry next winter and spring. Labor is badly needed on the farms and if not obtained, there will be crop failures.

WORK SATURDAY AFTERNOON

500,000 Negroes in North Carolina can work one Saturday afternoon, each, and 250,000 days, or 685 years of labor will be saved each week. This will mean the difference between plenty of food and Hunger.

Work Each Saturday Afternoon of Each Week

MORE FOOD WILL BE PRODUCED
